

Education really can change the world

22 May 2024

The Online School was born as a response to the global lockdown due to the COVID-19 pandemic in March 2020. They were able to prove that quality education can be accessed no matter where you are even if that is in a remote village as long as you have a laptop and an internet connection.

Delivering over 15,000 lessons to students across 25 different countries in 2020 they continue to provide support for vulnerable communities with free education programmes.

Their goal now is to support those students that have been neglected by the physical schooling system and using our understanding of what really makes children happy and couple this with great teachers who love to smile and state of the art technology to be able to deliver a classroom and schooling experience that is revolutionary.

Imagine a school where children can feel safe, free from bullies, be around people who understand are passionate about supporting them. That sounds like the perfect place to send any child.

If a child can be calm, significantly more happy and still achieve everything they want academically in a safe space and at their own pace, then that child will love learning.
